JUDGE GEAR IS ANGRY

Threatens the Discharge of the Grand Jury.

HE DOESN'T LIKE DOLE'S ACTIONS

Dunne Raises a New Question in Chinese Deportation Case. Circuit Court Notes.

Judge Gear does not relish the idea of the Attorney General getting the best of him in the habeas corpus cases, which he evidently thinks he has done by appealing from his decision and also presenting the same cases to the Grand Jury for indictment.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Gear called the Grand Jury in for the second time, and bluntly told them to call upon Attorney General Dole for an explanation, and if he still persisted in his appeal to the Supreme Court to notify the court and he would discharge the jury.

The Grand Jury had been considering cases of other men held upon the order of the District Court as they were presented by Assistant Attorney General Cathcart, and to this quite regular proceeding the court objects.

"I called you in at this time," said he, after the juryman had slowly filed into the court room, "to call your attention to the fact that cases of the defendants who are imprisoned have been appealed to the Supreme Court. I have since been informed indirectly that the Supreme Court is only to listen to arguments as to the right of appeal."

"The Grand Jury was instructed that the principal business to be brought before it was these habeas corpus cases and the court does not want your time taken up with matters of lesser importance. If the Attorney General does not intend to bring these matters to your attention I shall order the jury discharged. The Grand Jury was called to consider these cases. Mr. Dole wanted it postponed, but I called the jury at this time because I understand that Mr. Dole wanted soon to leave to get married. Mr. Dole is doing all he can to get around the order of this court, and I shall certainly not help him get around my decision. The Attorney General is taking two positions, and his actions are not consistent; he should take either one or the other horn of the dilemma and not try to straddle both. If these cases are not taken up before Monday the jury will be ordered discharged. You have a right to inquire what the Attorney General intends to do, and for that purpose may subpoena either him, the justices or any judge or officer."

Mr. Cathcart replied to Judge Gear, stating that he had received no instructions from Mr. Dole to delay the habeas corpus cases, and that he could not present them before he had prepared his evidence. He stated that he was taking up the cases as rapidly as he could, and was trying to dispose of all prisoners awaiting the action of the Grand Jury. He saw no reason why the Attorney General should not use every means in his power to secure the conviction of the men released by habeas corpus.

Foreman Ables asked that if the jury learned that the appeal was to be heard by the Supreme Court they were to discharge the prisoners, and the court replied by requesting them to report to him as soon as they learned the intentions of the Attorney General, and if it still was shown that he was both appealing and at the same time attempting to secure the indictment of the prisoners, he would discharge the jury, and upon proper application release the prisoners from confinement.

TRIAL JURY CALLED.
At the opening of court yesterday morning the trial jury was called by Judge Gear. S. M. Damon, P. C. Jones and J. S. Walker failed to respond to their names and the court was about to issue bench warrants for their appearance, when two of the recreants, Damon and Walker, appeared. Jones had been excused until next Monday.

ANOTHER LAND CASE.
The case of Sister Albertina, trustee, vs. the Kapiolani Estate and others was then called, and the following jury drawn to hear the evidence: W. A. Baldwin, E. K. Hanapi, W. E. Rowell, E. S. Holt, J. A. Legros, T. Krouse, G. Kekaula, D. B. Renear, R. C. Lane, A. W. Pearson, B. Naukana, J. S. Walker.

Soon after the case was started the jury was excused to allow the argument of a law point, namely the validity of a will which would have a vital bearing on the points at issue, and the ruling upon which was likely to be decisive.

THE HALL CASE.
In the afternoon the Hall case for the cancellation of lease was again taken up. Winam was on the stand for the greater part of the afternoon and gave the closing testimony for the defense. The plaintiff then began the introduction of evidence in rebuttal, and Mrs. Hall and her aunt were put on the stand to rebut the testimony offered by the defendant. The trial of the case will be resumed this afternoon at 12:30 o'clock.

APPEAL IN ADULTERY CASE.
An appeal was filed yesterday from the District of Koolapoko in an adultery case. The defendants, Tsui and Koshido, were fined $10 and $30 each, respectively, including the court costs. The woman, Tsui, paid her fine but the other defendant appealed. Both parties are Japs.

CIRCUIT COURT NOTES.

Motion was filed yesterday in re estate of Kekipi to try the case on issues of fact. The estate is valued at $1,500.

The case of Kwong Mow vs. Kiliona was tried yesterday morning, default and judgment being entered for plaintiff. Possession of the rice land in question, and damage to the amount of $1,300, were awarded plaintiff.

In the case of the Honolulu Investment Co., Ltd., vs. Helen Rowland and others, Emma M. Nakuina, one of the defendants, has filed an answer claiming the land in question as the only legal heir of Theophilus Metcalf.

An amended complaint was offered yesterday in the ejectment suit of Emma M. Nakuina vs. John Kidwell, naming W. C. Achi as one of the defendants.

An order of division was made yesterday in the matter of the estate of Sarah C. Gray, deceased.

A divorce was granted yesterday to Mary Farrage from Joaquin Farrage, libellant being made the custodian of the five children.

NEW POINT RAISED IN CHINESE CASE.

Acting United States Attorney Dunne raised a new and important question yesterday in the Chinese deportation cases of Ching Tai Sai and Ching Tai Sin, who claimed to have been born in Honolulu while Hawaii was a monarchy. The evidence tended to prove their birth in the Islands, and this was admitted by the government.

Mr. Dunne set up the claim, however, that Chinese born in a foreign country did not become American citizens from the subsequent taking of that kingdom by the United States. The law applied only to citizens of the republic, but not to those of the kingdom, where the Chinese had removed from Hawaii and were not residents at the time of annexation.

Judge Estee stated that the question raised was one of great importance in international law. The whole question, he said, was whether former citizens of the kingdom, not residents of the republic at the time of annexation became citizens of the United States. The attorneys were given ten days to prepare briefs on the subject.

Mrs. Ayau testified that she had known the two boys when they lived here. The court began to question her after she had given her testimony, and quite naturally inquired as to her age.

"How old are you?" asked the judge. The witness hesitated for a moment before speaking.

"I am over thirty," she finally said, reluctantly.

"How much over thirty?" asked the court.

"Thirty-nine," replied the witness, still more reluctantly, and a knowing smile passed from one court officer to the other.

Wang Kwai, who was at one time vice consul, was also a witness in behalf of the boys.

"How long have you been vice consul?" asked the attorney for the Chinese.

"Since annexation," responded the witness.

"Why did you leave the service?" was the next question.

"I don't think you should inquire into my private reasons," interrupted Judge Estee, "he may have left the service for a very good reason, to save his head, perhaps; lots of them did do it."

Drink Good Coffee.

About a year and a half ago I opened a home in Kona, on the island of Hawaii, for orphans and other needy children. I have now twenty children to feed, clothe and educate. I am dependent largely on the coffee raised at this home for the support of the children. I have on hand the crops for three years past. I have just opened the Kona coffee store on Fort street, near King, telephone Blue 121. No. 1 Kona coffee, fresh roasted and ground to order, delivered to any part of town or Waikiki. Call at the store or order by phone. Help support a needy child by helping yourself to a delicious coffee. ALICE F. BEARD, Woman's Exchange.

The best cough drops are drops of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

The next time you take cold, dose yourself with a lot of home remedies and dilly-dally along until your cough is deep-seated and you are threatened with pneumonia or consumption. That's one way, to be sure.

Here's another way: Take

at bedtime and be all right the next morning. Isn't this the better way? Then continue the Cherry-Pectoral a few days until your throat and lungs have completely healed and all danger of future trouble is past.

Another grand thing about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is that it cures hard coughs, the hard, dry, old coughs, even after all other remedies have failed.

Put up in large and small bottles. When it hurts your lungs to cough, then apply one of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plasters directly over the painful lung. It will quiet the pain, remove all congestion, and greatly strengthen.
